

DEATH DEAL- ING CYCLONE

Andrew McCormick Killed and Several Children were Injured.

Sweeps Over Coun- try From Southwest

Many Barns and Outhouses Destroyed But Only One Residence Struck.

THE DEAD

Andrew McCormick, 45.

THE INJURED.

Judie McCormick, 20, arm injured.
Orval McCormick, 17, head injured.

Noel McCormick, 15, badly bruised, possibly internally injured.
Clyde McCormick, 12, head injured.

Alma McCormick, 7, injury to foot.

Barry County was visited by a cyclone on Wednesday evening for the second time this summer. It was plainly visible from Monett from the time it formed and many people took refuge in cellars.

The storm seemed to begin about one mile west of Chas. Carlin's.
Carlin took his family into the orchard where they lay down and held on to the trees. They were threshed and pounded around and were covered with mud and dirt but not hurt.

About one third of his fine orchard was destroyed.

From there the storm traveled east cutting a swath about 250 feet wide destroying grain, fences and trees for John Mourglia, destroyed Jas. J. Bouvier's barn and crossed Purdy and Monett wagon road at the Waldensian stone church. The church seemed to be directly in the track of the storm which divided it thus saving Rev. Knotter's house directly east. The storm broke down and upturned trees about the church and parsonage but did no great damage to either building.

The greatest damage was done at the home of Andrew McCormick about 2 1/2 miles south east of Monett.
The family was all in the house and were unconscious of the approaching disaster until the storm was upon them.

Mr. McCormick gathered his seven children to a little hall at the rear of the building and prayed earnestly that their lives might be spared.

The wind struck the house with terrific force blowing it to pieces.
The family were all blown some distance. The children were blown to the smoke house and all except Edith, the oldest girl were more or less injured.

Mr. McCormick was blown about fifty yards, to a pond. His skull was crushed and he was probably instantly killed. The neighbors went at once to the family's assistance. Mr. McCormick's body was not found for some time. J. J.
Lauderdale was wading the pond when he saw what he thought was a blouse in the water. On investigating he found that it was the body of Mr. McCormick.

The funeral services will be held at the home of R. McCormick Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in West-bay's cemetery.

Mr. McCormick's wife died seven years ago and since that time Miss Edith, the oldest child, has been a mother to the younger children.

Her burden is now increased by the death of the kind and helpful father.

Mr. McCormick was an upright, religious man and had the love and respect of all who knew him.

Mr. McCormick's house was literally blown to pieces. No two pieces of timber remained together.
Every piece of furniture was destroyed and scattered over a wide stretch of country. All the out-buildings were destroyed except the barn, which was moved and partly over-turned. A granary made from a box car was picked up and carried a mile and set up on end in a field. The pond was drained and in it were found a trunk, gold watch and bed clothes and clothing.

Reams McCormick, who lived across the road from Andrew Mc-Cormick's place, said that when the storm struck, his house was lifted from the foundation, but settled back to its place.

Other damage was as follows:

Steve Courdin's barn was torn down and granary set off its foundation. The roof of the stone house was moved six inches.

John Tate's barn was shifted from its place.

John Courdin's barn was torn to pieces.

John Planche's barn was injured.

Mrs. B. Combs' barn was blown away.

At Mr. Voght's place about a dozen trees were blown down. The south end of his new barn was blown out about six inches.

During the progress of the tornado a hot blast as from a furnace struck this place and the air was sultry and suffocating.

A large crowd had assembled at the show tent of the Brown Theatre Company. The managers of the show announced that on account of rain the show would not be given that night, but the crowd could remain in the tent as long as they wished. Had the crowd known of the cyclone passing there would doubtless have been a panic. As it was they dispersed quietly.

Two trees stood immediately in front of the McCormick home and were uninjured, while everything else near them was lying flat on the ground.

One tree by the roadside had all the bark skinned off from the trunk on the side from which the cyclone came.

The path of the storm through fields of grain looked like a strong stream of water had flowed through bending all the stocks in one direction and pulling up much of it by the roots.

Zinc Lobby Is Satisfied

Washington, June 16.—Cassius M.
Shartel, former Representative of the Joplin district in the House, who has been here as a member of the Missouri zinc lobby, said tonight that the Joplin district would be satisfied either with the Senate provision adopted today or with the House rate.

"We succeeded," said Mr. Shartel tonight, "in getting the Finance Committee to make the 1-cent rate apply to all ores bearing more than 25 per cent zinc, though the original graduated scale named 30 per cent. Foreign ores below 25 per cent cannot compete with Missouri ores."

Shartel and the other members of the zinc lobby will leave Washington tomorrow.

horse became frightened and the younger sister jumped from the buggy and escaped, but her sister remained in her seat and was thrown to the ground and skull fractured near the base of the forehead. At last report she was doing as well as could be expected.

Marionville Man Acquitted.

"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the United States district court, which tried Will Smith of Marionville, Mo., for passing counterfeit bills last Tuesday and returned a sealed verdict which was opened by Judge Philips yesterday morning.

Smith was charged with being an accomplice of W. G. Guild, confessed counterfeit, who is now serving a 5-year sentence in the Fort Leavenworth federal penitentiary.
Guild was brought here as a witness against Smith. It was upon his testimony that the government based its case. Smith acknowledged passing a bill which was later found to be counterfeit, but denied knowing it was bad at the time.—

Farm Products Moving

Springfield, Mo., June 16.—The increase in freight business hand-ty to Kansas City. Forty car loads of live stock were handled through here for St. Louis and an equal number for Kansas City.

A GOOD REASON

Monett People Can Tell You
Why It Is So

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Monett people testify to permanent cures.

S. H. Lauderdale, W. Wishart St., Monett, Mo., says: "About a year and a half ago I began to suffer from a lame back and a disorder of the kidneys. At night I had to get up several times to pass the kidney secretions and also noticed a sediment in them. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Knapp's drug store quickly removed these troubles and restored me to good health.
Another member of the family has also taken this remedy with the desired benefit."
